PARTICIPATE IN OUR HPTED NEIGHBORHOOD LIFE SURVEY!

WHAT IS HPTED?

HPTED is Health Prevention Through Environmental Design and is the core research project of the CDC-Funded Prevention Research Center of Michigan. Throughout 2021-2024 the project will investigate the effects of environmental change initiatives on community health in Flint, MI. We hope to showcase the exceptional work of community members, neighborhood groups, foundations, and local government. The results of the survey will be shared back with the community.

NEIGHBORHOOD LIFE SURVEY

HPTED surveyors will go door to door on randomly selected streets across Flint to complete the HPTED Neighborhood Life Survey. Surveyors will ask residents questions about their health, safety, and neighborhood perceptions. This should take approximately 15 minutes per household.

INCENTIVE TO PARTICIPATE

If HPTED surveyors knock on your door, you will receive a $10 gift card for answering questions and participating in the survey.
